Antique FACTORY PLANK

(DIRTY TOP)

RECLAIMED FLOORING – TIMBER FROM AGED STRUCTURES

As the nation expanded at the turn of the last century, thousands of factories and warehouses were built. It's from these examples of early Americana that Olde Wood Limited reclaimed the hardwood plants for its new product line. These planks, mostly maple, reflect the generations of workers who walked upon them. Each board retains a nostalgic blend of original wear marks and a warm patina that reflects and honors this history. Antique Factory Plank flooring proudly displays America's heritage of hard work and integrity and adds a historic element that can be treasured in newer commercial spaces.

DISTINCTIVE ATTRIBUTES

Our Antique Factory Plank flooring retains much of its natural character from many years of use while retaining its original strength and showcasing a new type of beauty. Nail holes, finish residue, scuffs and natural discoloration mix together with wild grain patterns to create a unique flooring choice perfect for high traffic or commercial spaces.
