Beautiful wood does more than just illuminate a living space. It creates a unique ambiance that relaxes, inspires, and causes the mind to dream.

Olde Wood Limited is a custom mill – we mill the most sought-after flooring on the market today, and have a product for every budget, taste or décor.

We also offer a selection of wide plank flooring products traditionally milled from mature, fallen, or standing dead trees. Replicating early pioneer sawing practices, our Traditional Plank flooring is live-sawn, resulting in tight grain patterns, natural grain variation, and unique color and characterization.

Please explore this brochure as an introduction to our products. Afterwards, visit us online at www.OldeWoodLtd.com for a more comprehensive look into the world of reclaimed wood, or give us a call.

PRESERVING A PIECE OF AMERICAN HISTORY

From Weathered Barn to Stunning Interior

If you are like us, it's hard for you to pass by an old country barn without admiring the beautifully weathered hardwood planks that drape its frame, and imagining the rich history that has passed before it with time.

Creaking wagon wheels and callused hands. Howling winds and huddling livestock. The nightfalls and the sunrises of a country being born. The story of the American countryside is in the very grain of Olde Wood Limited reclaimed wood products.

Recognizing the intrinsic beauty of this reclaimed lumber and giving it new life is what fuels our passion at Olde Wood Ltd. Our craftsmen work tirelessly to reclaim and masterfully restore the remnants of historic barns and other aged structures into masterpieces of the home or office.

The wood stock we reclaim is carefully evaluated, graded and separated, denailed, then kiln dried, milled and molded to your exact specifications. This reclamation and restoration process results in incredibly durable "lifetime" products that reveal a unique warmth and richness that is simply unrivaled by any other hardwood product.

We invite you to join us in preserving part of American history by making it a part of your project

Olde Wood Limited's 100% Reclaimed Antique Wide Plank Flooring is milled from reclaimed timber and naturally seasoned woods that have been carefully recovered from idle barns, granaries, factories, warehouses and other turn-of-the-century buildings.

Reclaimed wood flooring offers one-of-a-kind beauty with stunning characteristics that can only be created by long years of natural use and weathering. Knotholes, rusty nail holes, saw marks, and deeply saturated colorings make each wide plank board truly unique.

The wood of your floor will be a talking piece all of its own, as guests to your house will be drawn to the proud character and scars that set it so far apart from conventional flooring.

From the Antique White Oak that was once used to build early settlements, to the flowing grain patterns of rare

American Wormy Chestnut that are accented with constellations of worm holes, each hand-inspected piece of our reclaimed flooring proudly displays the essence of antiquity, personality and timeless character.

Let us show you how we've earned a reputation as the forefront company of turning forgotten historic hardwood into breathtaking hardwood floors that last a lifetime and beyond.

SOLID OR ENGINEERED – WHICH IS RIGHT FOR YOU?

Solid and engineered planks both create a gorgeous flooring experience and are often hard to distinguish between after installation. However, they are two, very different types of flooring. Solid flooring, the industry standard, has a solid core of hardwood throughout and is best suited for on or above-grade installation over a wood subfloor. Engineered flooring, typically used in projects with higher or contrasting moisture levels, uses a 4mm surface layer of solid wood adhered to a stable, 8-layer plywood core – allowing for below-grade or concrete subfloor installation.

Your installer or Olde Wood Ltd. design specialist can help you choose the right solution for your project.

It's been said that they don't make them like they used to. If you have been floor shopping for any length of time now, you know this is often especially true with hardwood flooring.

Most modern milling companies utilize only certain parts of the log so they can be sure that the hardwood that will sit on the shelf of one store will look identical to that sitting at another. But there was a time when milling had a simple goal: turn a log into planks, and use as much of the log as possible.

Olde Wood Limited still believes in this time-honored practice, known as live-sawing, and we think you will agree that the results are breathtaking.

Replicating early pioneer sawing practices, our Traditional Plank flooring is live-sawn from fully matured trees, resulting in tight natural grain variations, rustic appearance, coloration and character that would be removed by other modern lumber grading practices.

By utilizing the entire log through-and-through we are able to present you with the longest lengths and widest planks available, as well as minimize the amount of wasted materials harvested from our forests.

EXCLUSIVE WOOD FLOORING HONORING AN AMERICAN ICON.

Mustang Collection

Along with the farmers came two staples in American history: the barns that dotted the landscape and the horses that worked side by side with them. While some horses worked hard plowing fields, carrying soldiers into battle, or transporting pioneers across unexplored territories, some horses escaped into the wild.

These escaped horses came to be known as mustangs, an American symbol of freedom, strength, and pioneer perseverance.

Horses, tame or wild, had a crucial role in this nation's story. Olde Wood Ltd. created the Mustang Collection to represent the importance of these majestic creatures.

Barn siding adds a nostalgic element to any new home construction, remodeling project, commercial design or retail space. Each plank paneling, exterior siding or ceiling decking. This durable wood has been naturally air dried over many decades and is not only optimally dry and stable, but virtually maintenance-free.

Reclaimed Antique Barn Siding can be used in a variety of applications, such as interior wall

Prefinished Reclaimed Antique Barn Siding has many colors available upon request. Your Olde Wood Ltd. Design Specialist can provide more information about these options.

This reclaimed wall or ceiling treatment brings together the deep textures and historic authenticity of naturally weathered barn siding with the contemporary characteristics of a distressed color.

While the Distressed Collection barn siding is available in the colors shown, this wall treatment solution can be created using colors specified by you. AUTHENTIC RECLAIMED AND HISTORIC BARN BEAMS

Reclaimed Antique Beams + Timber

In the past, barns and stables were the center of America's agrarian culture. With extreme care and masterful craftsmanship, these structures were supported by the strongest beams and built to last centuries.

As the nature of our society continues to change, old barns – together with aging factories and industrial buildings – are now being reclaimed for the quality, old-growth wood and timbers that cannot be duplicated by today's technology.

Our solid, reclaimed timbers, which are hand-selected for their premium quality and appearance, become a thing of beauty for the interior of any room or exterior of any dwelling. Beams for a fireplace mantel, timbers across your ceiling, or as rustic timber-framing for your home, the structural and decorative possibilities are limited only by your imagination.

At Olde Wood Limited, we offer a variety of reclaimed wood beams and posts (from century-old structures) that are two- or four-sided, hand-hewn, resawn and available with an original or sanded surface. Rich with rustic, yet refined appeal, these timbers include saw marks from the original milling or axe cuts from the carpenter who carved them by hand.

Reclaimed Antique Fireplace Mantels

As the warm light of the fire flickers, the hand-worked markings from a century before are honored and illuminated on the mantel above, causing the mind to revisit the legends and lore that defined our American frontier.

Our Reclaimed Antique Fireplace Mantels are made from hand-hewn or rough sawn beams and add a historically inspiring, natural element to any modern or rustic interior.

The allure of each beam is perfectly preserved as the marks from the rustic process that shaped it are left perfectly intact. Whether that is the rough touches of an old world saw mill or the scars from the axe of a frontier craftsman, every Olde Wood Ltd. fireplace mantel possesses its own unique personality and warmth.

These premium fireplace mantels are hand-graded and meticulously selected to match your design preferences. Every fireplace mantel will be custom-cut to your specified length, surface de-nailed, treated for insects, pressure washed, and kiln dried to ensure stability and longevity of beauty.

Our large inventory allows you to select the perfect mantel by choosing which size and surface type you prefer. We also offer a variety of wax finish options if a softer look is preferred. Our mantels are available online for purchase at www.OldeWoodLtd.com/products/fireplace-mantels/shop as well.

At Olde Wood Limited, we offer a wide range of premium wide plank flooring for every taste and budget. Wide planks of stunning hardwood are why we get up in the morning. And because everything we mill is made to last a lifetime, this is a decision you're going to have to live with, well, forever. We can't wait to help you with it.

While you certainly don't need to know a thing before reaching out to talk with us about your project, there are some factors to consider that might help you narrow down your options ahead of time. For example, consider variables such as texture and color. Also, while most clients enjoy the look of a mixed-width floor, we also mill many floors where every single plank is the same width. Does one of these styles appeal to you more than the other?

Aside from questions of style, there are also some logistical factors that you will want to start thinking about, such as the square footage of your project and time factor for delivery. Because every Olde Wood Limited floor is custom milled, our lead times are usually around two months. Make sure you keep this timeline in mind during the planning stages of your project.
